I would like to confirm our telephone conversation this afternoon.

We had arranged for our serviceman to be down in Washington, Tuesday morning but, as the [] representative will not be available, we will postpone the visit until the following week.

[] will be coming down on Monday, July 1. In order to try and get the equipment running before the holiday, he would like to work longer hours. If he has not completed the work by July 4, he will stay to work during the holiday.
